PROGRAM: Increasing numbers of students with hearing loss are transitioning into mainstream public school elementary education settings. How can educators, parents, and service providers help them succeed in fast-paced public school classes, while meeting their unique needs as students with hearing loss? In this day-long workshop you will learn how to use the materials and strategies of “Differentiated Instruction” to teach and support the academic and social development of deaf and hard of hearing (D/HH) students within typical education classes. The important roles of additional team members will be discussed. Through lecture, discussion, hands-on materials, and case studies, our focus will be on adapting classroom materials to reach and teach the D/HH student in your school.

PRESENTERS: Dana Romanello-Flynn, M.S., is certified in Deaf Education grades K-12 and Childhood Education grades 1-6. She has been working in the field of Deaf Education for 10 years in home intervention, public schools, and residential schools for the deaf. She has incorporated both the philosophies and strategies of adventure-based experiential education into her current teaching.

Sharon Rende, Au.D., is a Director of Audiology at Capital Region Ear, Nose, and Throat and Capital Region Ear Institute. She oversees a full diagnostic audiology program, in addition to seeing new, follow up, and post-op patients in the office.

Sue Morgan, B.S., Speech Pathology and Audiology, has been a certified teacher of the deaf and hard of hearing for 39 years and is part of the D/HH team at Capital District Beginnings. Over the past 10 years she has specialized in teaching and supporting students with hearing loss in regular education classes.

This course is offered for .5 ASHA CEUs (Intermediate Level, Professional Area)
